

Precision Rolling acquired by ASMAG UK Ltd

February 2010

Precision Rolling has been acquired by ASMAG UK Ltd. Precision Rolling specialises in equipment for the manufacture of simple and complex profiles in low to high-carbon steels and non-ferrous materials.

David Liddle, Managing Director of ASMAG UK, commented: "We are delighted to extend our product range through this acquisition. Precision Rolling offer an extensive range of profile manufacturing equipment, together with ancillary machinery that enables complete production lines to be designed, built and installed. The product lines complement ASMAG 's existing copper tube manufacturing machinery."

ASMAG UK Ltd is the UK division of ASMAG - Anlagenplanung und Sondermaschinenbau GmbH, a leading Austrian supplier of copper and brass tube manufacturing equipment.
